

Lessons in Leadership

June 30–July 2, 2025 🌞 Washington, D.C. 🌞 #NAEH2025

Saba Mwine-Chang (She/her)

*Deputy Chief Community Opportunity Officer,
Los Angeles Homeless Services Authority (LAHSA)*

Tasha Gray (she/her)

Executive Director, Homeless Action Network of Detroit

Rene Ramirez (he/him)

*CEO, HomeFirst
rramirez@homefirstscc.org
Linkedin: René-Ramirez*

Lauren King (she/her)

Executive Director, Partnership Home

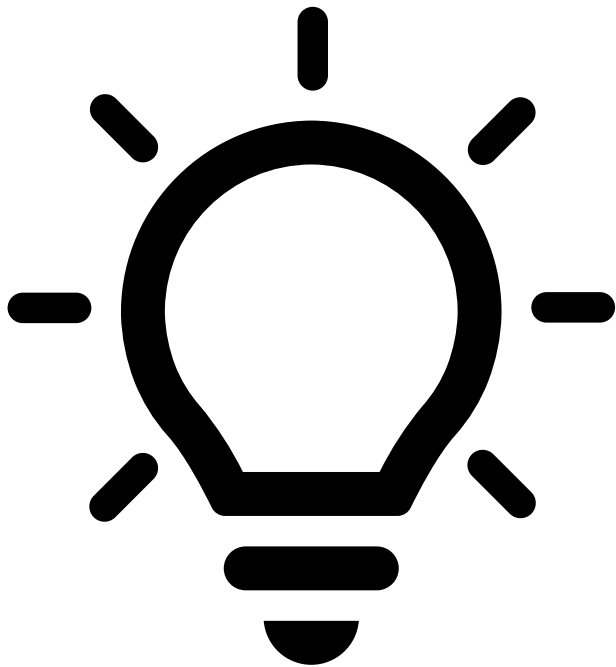

Dr. Va Lecia Adams Kellum (she/her)

*Chief Executive Officer,
Los Angeles Homeless Services Authority (LAHSA)
VaLecia.adamskellum@lahsa.org valeciala2019@gmail.com*

Hear from leaders about how they learned to deliver consistent results and strategic change in their communities. Ask questions about how they developed the knowledge and expertise required to make an impact. And most importantly, think through solutions to you and your community's most pressing challenges.

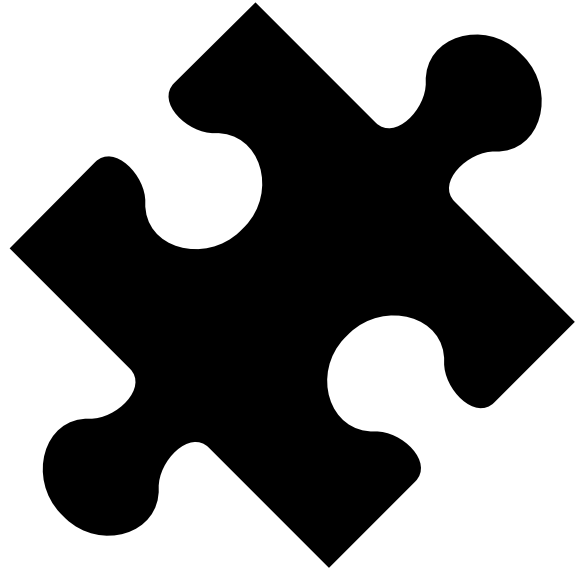

What advice do you have for building support and changing the narrative around homelessness?

How are you creating buy-in that your organizations and systems can end homelessness?

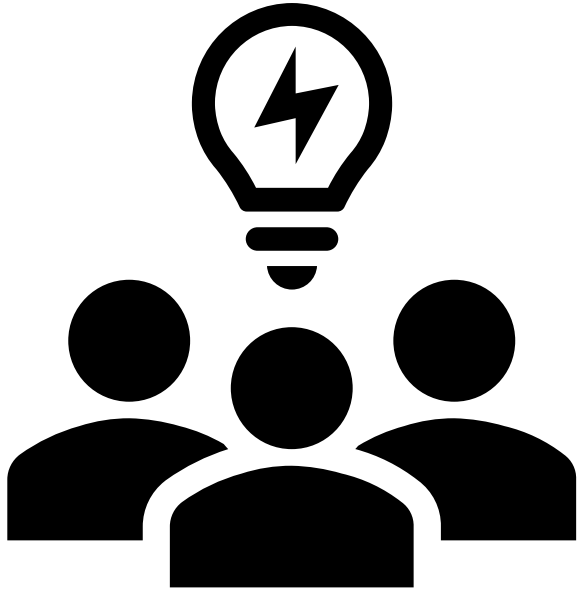

Ending Homelessness is Possible.

How have you navigated financial restrictions in the past and how are you applying those lessons to the current funding environment?

What steps are you taking to cultivate the next generation of homeless service leaders in your community?

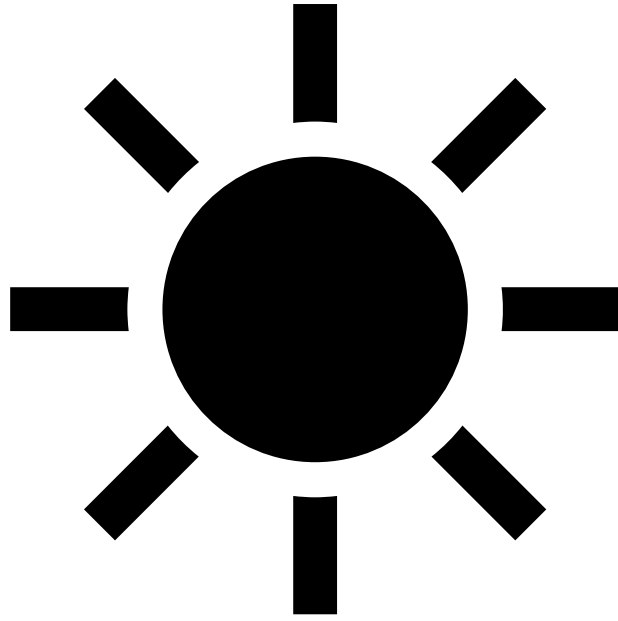

How have DEI policies improved your system's performance and how are you sustaining progress in realizing equity goals?

Ending Homelessness is Possible.

What do you imagine for your system going forward?

How do you keep your hope alive through challenging times?

Ending Homelessness is Possible.

Questions?

Ending Homelessness is Possible.

