

Wilson Ramos

Throughout his career, Ramos has been actively involved in expanding access to resources, strengthening community partnerships, and elevating civic engagement across North Las Vegas. His work includes contributions to projects such as the Dolores Huerta Resource Center, and he regularly represents the city in community presentations, program reviews, and council meetings. Known for his commitment to serving diverse populations, Ramos continues to lead efforts that support education, equity, and community well-being in North Las Vegas.